CRYPTOCURRENCY MARKET GROW

After seeing the breakthrough in the crypto market and crossing the market value above $2T it was decided to raise capital for our startup in the field of algorithmic trading.

We believe that with the help of the global crypto market that contains a wide range of investors, we will be able to raise the amount required to complete the algorithm development and we will create a system that can read and analyze the market artificially and automatically so we can generate profits for us and our investors.

ALGOTRADING

Algorithmic trading is a method of executing orders using automated pre-programmed trading instructions accounting for variables such as time, price, and volume etc.

Algorithmic trading has been in daily use for several years by hedge funds, trading groups, mutual funds and other institutional entities and gradually - also by independent professional traders. A trading algorithm can be used by the trader in any trading strategy.

GICKS SOFTWARE

As explained above, the role of the questions is to help the system establish the viability of the investment based on as much relevant data as possible.

333 DATA QUESTIONS

The questions asked are very diverse. Some are very general for example the state of major currencies like Bitcoin and Etherium which have an impact on the market.

In addition, an examination of the entire volume of the market and more, each Questions worth 0.015 points.

Collection of data related to currency analysis, such as trading volume, current market size, new announcements, graph technical analysis, etc.

9.1 SCORE BASE

After the extension runs all the questions about the currency, it gives it a score of 1-10 employees. We can know whether it is worth investing in the currency, a score above 9.1.

The system will not hold more than 10% of the portfolio in one type of currency in order to maintain diversity.
